VACATION TIME

THE TOWN RECORD

By MONTE DAYTON

E. CARDELLINI, plumber about town, has just returned from five days visit in Van Nuys with old buddy PAT VALENTINO, former state heavyweight boxing champion.

The one-time beak-buster is in a different line now, playing bit parts in movies. Cardellini has the set of gloves used by big Pat when he fought Ezzard Charles in San Francisco for the world's title.

If your memory fails you, Valentino was ahead up until the eighth round, got careless, was downed, and had a ten-spot counted over him.

One of the youngest students ever to be graduated from Jefferson high school is Jane Earlean Holecsek—a scant 16 years, 4 months old. She plans to look for summer work, then go on to SF State, where she will major in biological sciences and mathematics.

She's the daughter of MR. and MRS. JOHN HOLECEK, 481 San Diego avenue.

Daly City's golfing barrister, City Attorney FRANK BLUM, has finally come into his own on the links.

Recently he received a certificate making him a member of the "90s" club, an organization of gentlemen who have toured the greensward in less than 100 strokes, more than 90.

He's happy, but hates to hear his friends keep telling him, "Frank, you ought to be ashamed of the way you play golf."

A dastardly trick last week put TOM MITCHELL, Club Casino owner, at the end of his wits.

Some wag called his establishment, ordered reservations for 40, in the name of GLENN SOUTH, dean of men at Jefferson high school.

Needless to say, none of the parties involved were pleased, with the exception, probably, of the anonymous caller, whose mission of snafu was a success.

In the mail: "Hello from Texas. We arrived here a week ago after a wonderful trip. Several stops for sight seeing along the way. We will start for home soon now, very tired and dusty but happy to have seen so much of our nice country. Yours truly, MR. and MRS. PAUL DUMONT"

High School Budget Down; No Tax Raise

Tentative budget of $570,870 for the fiscal year 1953-54 was adopted by the Jefferson high school board of trustees at their Monday night meeting.

This figure is approximately $50,000 below the budget for the previous year, $624,090, and means that the tax-rate of $1.10 per $100 assessed valuation will remain stable for the coming year.

At Monday's meeting the board selected "Westmoor" as the name for the proposed new Skyline high school. The name was derived from Westlake and Broadmoor.

A breakdown of next year's budget shows $473,370 for total current expenditures; $56,000 for capital outlay (new equipment, improvements on buildings and grounds); and $30,000 for undistributed reserve.

Reason for reduction in the budget was explained by the fact that last year the district had to spend nearly $60,000 to change the heat-

BRUNSWICK ENGINEER IS RELIEVED OF DUTIES

Graduate 152 At Jeff Hi Ceremonies

The Jefferson high school Class of 1953, 152 strong, was graduated last night (Thursday) in commencement exercises at the school auditorium. (See pictures page 6.)

The class was presented by Stanford Hannah, district superintendent, and the sheepskins were awarded by Lyle Ingersoll, chairman of the board of trustees.

Several musical selections were offered, climaxed by "The Halls of Ivy," sung by the Boys' chorus.

Senior Class President Joanne Van Vliet and Student Body President John Daniels delivered addresses to the nearly 500 guests gathered for the exercises. James Butenhof was valedictorian.

Three of the graduates, Joanne Beekman, Virna Walker and James Butenhof, graduated as life members of the California Scholarship Federation.

Ceremonies Tonight At Center For 222 Colma Graduates

The community center will be the setting for graduation of 222 Colma eighth grade students tonight (Friday) at 8 p.m.

Invocation and benediction will be given by the Rev. William Harberts of the Grace Presbyterian church.

Presenting the class will be Miss Marjorie Tobias, Colma school principal.

H. Z. Weibel, district superintendent, will receive the class and diplomas will be awarded by Mrs. Helen Cheatham, member of the board of trustees.

The program will consist of vocal and instrumental selections, with the Jefferson elementary district student orchestra.

Student speakers, all of whom composed their own addresses, will be: Arthur Eikenberry, master of ceremonies; Mary Ann Widfield, "Qualities of Citizenship"; Bruce Freeland, salutatorian; Barbara Bauer, class historian; Florence Verducci and Raymond Navarra, co-valedictorians.

JEFF TRUSTEES HOLD MEETING TOMORROW

A special meeting of the Jefferson elementary district's board of trustees will be held tomorrow (Saturday) to open bids for site work at the Garden Village school.

The project will include applying blacktop for basketball courts, installing a drive-in parking area and grading for a baseball field.

Because of long delay in the project, the city council Monday night relieved Robert Klassen, former city engineer, from his duties as engineer on the Brunswick street extension.

Klassen is engineer for San Carlos but was retained on the Brunswick job since he was there at its outset.

Councilman Paul Green, citing the long delay in the completion of the street which will connect Wellington avenue and Hillside boulevard, made the motion to relieve Klassen of his duties and called on the city to seek a structural engineer to complete the job.

TWO SUICIDES IN DALY CITY WITHIN 24 HOURS

Two suicides occurred within a period of 24 hours in Daly City this week.

The most recent was reported Wednesday at 10 a.m. when Bill O'Shea, bartender at the Silver Saddle, found the body of Nicholas Miroluboff slumped in the back seat of his car, parked at Skyline boulevard about 1/4 mile south of Alemany extension.

About 25 feet of garden hose was found leading from the exhaust pipe into the left front window and the motor was running when the body was found. Police said Miroluboff, whose address was listed as 205 Potrero avenue, San Francisco, had been dead three or four hours.

Only known survivor of the deceased was listed as Serge V. Miroluboff, 385 Eddy street, apt. 305, San Francisco.

After nine months siege with reading, writing and arithmetic some 5000 students, ranging from kindergarten to high school, will be out on the loose again for a three month's vacation spree.

Schools of the Jefferson elementary and high school districts held final sessions today with little work, a lot of frolicking, on the agenda.

A total of 3500 children from the elementary district's ten schools bid adieu to their teachers today, while approximately 1100 high school students departed for summer treks or part-time work.

Of the high school figure, 132 will not be coming back next year, having graduated last night in ceremonies at the school auditorium. However, their numbers will be more than replenished next fall, with anticipated freshmen enrollment at 300.

A total of 222 Colma school eighth graders will be graduated tonight.

At the high school, some 100 students will be attending summer school, which commences Monday. A staff of five or six teachers will be on hand to instruct U. S. history, drivers' education, music, English, woodshop, personal typing (Continued on Page 2)

Murder Suspect Is Arraigned On Grand Jury Indictment SAYS DIDN'T INTEND TO KILL EX-LOVER

Thirty-six-year old "panty burglar" Walter W. Sanders, charged with murdering his ex-sweetheart in a Colma trailer court, was arraigned Monday in Superior court on a grand jury indictment.

Sanders' case was continued by Judge Edmund Scott until Monday, when he will enter a plea.

In the indictment, Sanders is accused with stabbing to death Mrs. Roberta Faye Blackman, 37, Miroluboff, 385 Eddy street, apt. 305, San Francisco.

Sanders has admitted to officers that he went from San Francisco to Colma with a hunting knife to cut her up a bit, but claimed he did not intend to kill her. Reason for his ire, he said, was that she had left him to live with another man.

City Budget Boost Of At Least $50,000 Seen

Laborer Walkout Ties Up Building

Nearly a million dollars worth of building projects were tied up in Daly City this week as laborers went on strike throughout the county, demanding a 20 cent per hour wage increase.

At the Doelger subdivision, work on upwards of 300 homes was stopped when several hundred laborers, carpenters and apprentice carpenters left work Monday.

The laborers, members of the California Council of Hod Carriers and Laborers union, have set up pickets which the carpenters refuse to cross.

Work on the city street project, widening of Knowles avenue, ended temporarily Wednesday at noon when workers left their jobs.

Also stopped was the cafeteria addition at the local high school. A dozen laborers were preparing the ground for the construction.

Not affected was the Colma elementary school, where workmen were still on the job yesterday.

Local 389 of the General Construction and Laborers Union has signed separate agreements with 25 per cent of the contractors in the county.

Sewage Bond Plans Won't Be Ready For 4-5 Months

Earliest possible date for sale of the sewage bonds voted June 2 will be about December, according to James Kennedy, president of the North San Mateo County Sanitation district board of directors.

It was at first estimated that the drawing up of plans by Harry Jenks, district engineer, would take about two months. However, Jenks said this week it would be at least four or five months before the specifications were ready.

Kennedy said the $600,000 in bonds wouldn't be sold until after plans were completed. This, he pointed out, would do away with paying interest on the money while it was not in use.

DA To Investigate Cause Of Dennis "Battle" With Foley

ACCUSER FAILS TO APPEAR IN COURT

The district attorney's office this week went ahead with a detailed investigation to determine exact cause of a slug-fest last week between City Councilman Edward J. Dennis and Thomas Foley, 32, a member of the Milkwagon Drivers' union, No. 226, of which Dennis is president.

Foley last week charged Dennis with unprovoked assault, but failed to appear in Judge Fred Wyckoff's municipal court Monday.

Dennis said the attorney's office wasn't satisfied with accounts of the battle.

Foley claims that Monday, June 1, Dennis assaulted him while he was working on a construction job in Burlingame.

But Dennis said Foley attacked him after he (Dennis) began asking him some questions about his status of employment. According to union bylaws, a member who secures outside work is supposed to report to the union.

Foley has been summoned to appear before the union's executive board June 17 on charges of striking an officer.

AWARD CONTRACT FOR INSTALLATION OF WATER MAINS

Pisano Brothers Firm Wins Job For $12,652

Contract for installation of water mains at Southgate and Wildwood avenues was awarded to the Pisano brothers construction company of Santa Clara by the city council Monday night.

They submitted low bid of $12,652 for the project. The ten bids ranged from the low figure to that forwarded by the Sierra Pipe Line Construction company, $19,824.10.

Bids for a well on lots 925 and 926 in Broadmoor were also opened, but were held over for further study by Edwin Smith, city engineer. The three bids submitted were: J. N. Pitcher, $11,339.50; N. F. Key, $12,400; and Harvey R. Hatch, $13,300.

The two projects are a part of the water improvement program, made possible by passage of the recent $390,000 water bond.

An ordinance setting a public hearing July 13 on the vacation of Atlanta street was passed by a 3-2 vote. Councilmen Edward Dennis and Joseph Verducci opposed the hearing. Vacating of the street is sought by the PG&E so that they may proceed with their $1,080,000 sub-station.

In other business, the council:

1. Appointed Edmond B. Cook a member of the volunteer fire department, effective June 4.

2. Read a letter from the Colma school students thanking Dan Andersen, city administrator, and other city officials for making possible their use of the community center for a school dance.

3. Passed a resolution authorizing payment of $5,505.48 to the (Continued on Page 2)

Preliminary estimates this week revealed that the city budget for the coming year will be "at least" $50,000 above that for last year. Dan Andersen, city administrator, said it would be at least a month before the budget was compiled, but predicted that $700,000 would be the minimum. Last year the city operated on $659,000.

Basing his estimate on departmental requests, Andersen said that the budget would definitely be higher, but could give no precise figure.

He said it might be just a few hundred dollars over $700,000, or it might be "much more than that."

If it is near the $700,000 figure the general tax rate of 89.9 will probably be held, he said. However, the overall tax lien of 1.38 (including special assessments and bond issues) will be raised because of the October bond issues passed.

DALY CITY SEEKS A FEW THOUSAND IN FEDERAL AID Money Allocated For Civilian Defense Use

Daly City officials met Monday with representatives of the Federal Civilian Defense administration to inquire about application for several thousand dollars in federal funds.

Under the set-up, cities are entitled to federal money on a matching-fund basis for money spent locally on civilian defense.

According to Dan Andersen, city administrator, Daly City will seek $500 for the police department, since the auxiliary police constitute a civilian defense unit.

The city's request for fire department funds will be made at a (Continued on Page 2)

Two-Way Signals On Alemany Not Solution

Daly City's traffic problem on the Alemany extension may be relieved but it will be far from solved, it appeared this week.

The city had sought to have three-phase signals (with left-hand turn lanes) installed at the Alemany's intersection with Lake Merced boulevard and Park Plaza.

However, a letter from B. W. Booker, assistant state highway engineer, indicates the state thinks cost for two sets of the three-phase signals is a little too high.

Cost $105,000
The triple-light set-up would cost $105,000 the highway department reports, of which the state would pay $86,000, the city $19,000.

Estimated cost of two-phase signals is $43,020, Booker says. Of this sum the city's share would be $13,310 while the state would pay $29,710.

Booker said that although the division of highways agrees three-phase signals are needed, "the budget does not include sufficient funds."

Possibility in '55
The highway official pointed out that the '54-'55 budget was not yet adopted and there was a possibility that money be allocated at that time for the more expensive signals.

Chief of Police Roland Petrocchi says that the two-phase signals won't improve the traffic situation on Alemany with any degree of success.

He pointed out that traffic movement will be thwarted by drivers attempting to make a left-hand turn into oncoming traffic.

Petrocchi also observed that the left hand turn is main cause for many accidents.

Are "Only Answer"
He concludes that the three-phase signals are the "only answer."

So what's the city going to do about the perplexing situation?

Dan Andersen, city administrator, concedes that there isn't much Daly City can do, since the state bears the bulk of the cost and therefore can dictate the terms.

The hazardous traffic problem on the Alemany has long aroused the ire of Westlake residents.

The weekly incidence of accidents on the intersections finally prompted the Westlake Improvement Association to meet with the city council to seek some answer to the problem.

Traffic Movement
Although there are other intersections in Daly City that have been the scene of more accidents, the movement of traffic is a big factor in the need for signals on the Alemany, Petrocchi says.

Completion of the new Skyline freeway, scheduled to get underway in late summer, will put an additional burden on the Alemany section.

Many Accidents
Records for last year show seven accidents at the Lake Merced boulevard-Alemany intersection. A total of six mishaps occurred in 1952 at the Lynwood drive-Alemany juncture. Of this total, there were four injuries.

The Park Plaza drive-Alemany intersection accounted for five wrecks last year, from which two injuries resulted.

Thus, in the period of one year, the half-mile stretch of Alemany has been the site of 18 accidents.

Chances are the figure will be higher for this year, with increased growth of the surrounding area.

General consensus of local officials is that the three-phase signals are the solution, but as it now stands, two-phase signals are in the offing if the state has its way.

City Budget Boost Seen For Next Year

Tuesday Daly City met with state officials to learn the result of a state salary survey conducted here.

Andersen said the city decided to adopt the salary range system. However, the maximum and minimum range are yet to be decided.

Increase in police and fire department budgets will be another important factor in increasing expenditures for the coming year, Andersen explained.

An increase in personnel is slated for both departments. The police commission has requested eight additional men, while the fire department will be staffed with six more than called for in last year's budget.

Police budget for last year was $124,940, while the fire department was allocated $65,000.

FIRE FIGHTERS' FACTS

By Mel Hanson
Fire Prevention Bureau

New York City had a fire on the average of one every 12 minutes last year, according to the report of the New York fire department.

Fire alarms averaged 170 a day, of which 50 were false or unnecessary. Fires extinguished averaged 120 a day, and totalled 44,407 for the year.

Advocate Box Alarms

It was very gratifying to read a report the other day that The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company advised their 2,000,000 public subscribers to use fire alarm boxes instead of the telephone to report a fire. The report was entitled "pull the box."

"Generally speaking, something like one third of all fire alarms are placed by telephone. We are glad to be helpful. Nonetheless we echo the sage advice of fire department authorities all over America that, where a regular fire alarm system exists, you should be sure to pull the box. It is as fast. Sometimes faster. It doesn't risk burned out wires. It doesn't develop hysteria. It pinpoints the location of the fire. Use your telephone if you wish, but regard it as no more than a second means of alarm. Know where your nearest fire box is. Should you have a fire, pull it."

Spring Semester At San Mateo JC Closes

The spring semester of the day and evening school at San Mateo Junior college closes this week, with the commencement exercises to take place Sunday afternoon at the Woodland open-air theatre in Hillsborough at 3:30.

Already the college is planning for next fall. One of the new departments to open then will be that of cosmetology which prepares men and women students for work in beauty parlors. This is a field that offers ready employment and high pay. The two years of training at the college will fit the students for this work and also graduate them from the college.

Those interested should contact the college office at once as enrollment in this department will be limited.

MINOR INJURIES SUFFERED IN COLLISION SUNDAY

Two elderly San Francisco persons received minor injuries Sunday evening after the car in which they were riding collided at Castle street and Second avenue with a vehicle driven by Silvio R. Minicucci, 25, of Rt. 1, Box 17, Castle street, Colma.

Taken to Junipero Serra hospital and treated for cuts and bruises were John Haley, 65, and his wife, Elizabeth, 63, of 1158 Church street.

Police said Minicucci was driving west on the wrong side of Castle street when his auto hit one driven by John Haley Jr., 43, of 237 Second avenue, Daly City. Haley was reported travelling north on Second avenue.

Minicucci was cited for failing to yield right of way to a vehicle in an intersection and for travelling on the wrong side of the road, while Haley was listed as driving without an operator's license in his possession.

ALL PROGRAMS SUBJECT TO CHANGE - NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR LAST MINUTE SCHEDULINGS

The Ostriches Come Up For A Gander

As THE RECORD pointed out a month ago, while would-be clairvoyants and sages were gnashing their teeth in the high wind, San Francisco's annexation plans here are practically kaput. With the exception of SF Supervisor Edward Mancuso, who waxes eloquent on every subject at every opportunity to get Edward Mancuso's name before the public, the rational SF officials realize the jig is just about up.

Chief Administrator Thomas Brooks said just last week that prospects of annexing Westlake and Broadmoor are very discouraging at this time. Brooks said that the advantages of annexation would be almost entirely in favor of San Mateo, not San Francisco.

He also pointed out, as was realized at the outset by those who took the time to investigate, that annexation would require a "tremendous investment," as he puts it, almost giddily.

To mention a few there are sewer systems and disposal plants, schools, fire houses, police stations, hospitals, water systems, branch libraries, parks, playground and street lighting.

As San Francisco's tax bill now stands, it is simple, providing only for the municipal and school levies. But under annexation, the bill would become unbelievably complex because this county has so many taxing districts.

It's tough to be wrong, and even tougher to admit it, but, like the ostrich who hides his head in the sand, it behooves the SF fathers to stand up occasionally and look the situation straight in the eye.

The Future Looks Rosier

As observed in this publication last week, there is a possibility that double sessions will come to an end for Jefferson elementary school children by next year.

The damage has already been done for some children, but it's at least some consolation to know this shallow type of education will not fall on future youngsters.

Children on double sessions have an average loss of 26 school days in each of the primary schools and 34½ days in the upper grades.

In a six-year period from the first to sixth grade more than a year's loss in schooling occurs. It has also been discovered that classes on regular session spend three times as much time as classes on double session in the use of resources such as audio-visual materials, excursions, assemblies and special teachers.

Besides these vital factors, the double sessions have a disrupting effect on domestic life, with the mother rushing off her young ones at varied and inconvenient hours of the day.

Financing the Jefferson elementary school district has become a major item for local taxpayers.

But if the end of double sessions is brought about, the citizens will more than be repaid in the realization that the youth are getting their just due in education.

With Mixed Applause, Catcalls

Something approaching applause is due the city council for finally getting down to brass tacks on the Brunswick street extension problem.

Six months ago the council said they were awaiting a report from engineer Robert Klassen, after the Brunswick hillside had toppled down the street.

The months droned on, and the subject became lost in the municipal hubbub.

But persons driving by the project, located within spitting distance of the city hall, were reminded almost daily of the fiasco.

Now the council has decided to get a structural engineer to see if something can't be done about the lagging, sagging bit of road work.

If things work according to precedent, we can expect action in about six months.

We hope the council will decide to forego their usual methods of attacking a problem, and take this one up in a hurry.

to 10,000 watts and to broadcast good music for at least one more year, it will have to give up the struggle and degenerate into broadcasting what the advertisers think the public wants.

This is not the time to delve into why advertisers daily insult the intelligence of the radio audience. Nor why the audience puts up with it. It is also a little late to question why earlier publicity was not given to this crisis (the deadline is June 15), and why the stock was pegged at $50 instead of $25, or even $10. This is the time to grasp ones spear and shield, clap the winged helmet on ones head and advance to do battle with the Philistine. This is the time for the columnist to write a faster-piece whose ringing phrases will inspire hundreds of readers to invest in Bay Radio, Inc.

This is the week to write a column which in its glory and majesty would be remembered forever. A sharp, witty column, reminiscent of Oscar Wilde, yet with the dark power and tragic overtones of Verdi's Otello. In a word, this is a week that cries for genius. And never was there a week which found me more ill prepared for the call.

Somewhere there are molten words to be hammered into fiery phrases which I could wield as a sword to cut the disinterest and apathy which may block this plan to give the Bay Area its largest independent station, a station devoted to good music. The words are there, somewhere, but I can't find them. The only words I can find are the phone numbers you should call if you are interested in this investment—DOUGLAS 2-5300, Lockhaven 9-0441, Lytle 3-8313.

This is the time for those who believe to stand up and be counted.

Reader Says Chamber's $17,150 Request Exorbitant Compared To Other Cities

June 6, 1953

The Record
3317 San Jose Ave.,
Daly City, Calif.

Gentlemen:

I noticed that in the June 4 edition of The Record you inserted an article stating that the Chamber of Commerce submitted a budget request to the city council requesting funds in the amount of $17,150. This request appeared to me to be for rather an exorbitant amount, therefore I obtained the following facts that should be taken into consideration:

South San Francisco, population as per 1950 census, 19,351—council appropriation (annually) $600.

Burlingame, estimated population, 22,000—council appropriation (annually) $1,800.

Daly City, population as per 1950 census, 15,191—requested council appropriation, $17,150.

As you can see the requested appropriation is approximately 10 times as much as the highest city checked.

In view of these facts I believe it is the civic duty of The Record to obtain some enlightenment upon the subject.

The people of Daly City should be advised as to why the Chamber of Commerce has requested such a large sum of money from the people of Daly City and exactly for what purposes will this money be spent. Also, if the chamber intends to use all or a portion of this money for political purposes they should so state their intentions.

I am not by any means opposing the Chambers request for funds, but rather I am trying to have more of the facts brought before the people so that the people might have a better understanding as to how their money is being used and for what purposes it is being used.

Thanking you for your cooperation in this matter I remain,
Sincerely yours,
George Lagomarsino

Interesting To Make Comparison Of Legislative Activity In House, Senate

By Congressman J. Arthur Younger

The first five months of the 83rd Congress are now history and they furnish a very interesting comparison of the legislative activity as between the Senate and the House of Representatives.

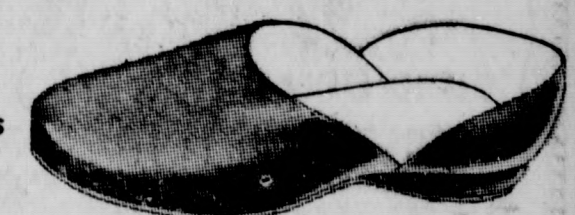

The Senate has been in session eighty days or four hundred and twenty-four hours. The House has been in session seventy-one days or two hundred and thirty-four hours. However, during these sessions the Senate has passed only 296 measures while the House has passed 479. The effect of the extended debate in the Senate on the submerged lands bill is best illustrated by the fact that they have used 3,795 pages in the Congressional Record, while the House has used only 2,185. Measures introduced in the Senate total 2,247, while in the House 6,104 measures have been introduced. During the 80 days the Senate has been in session they have had 92 quorum calls and 29 yeas and nay votes recorded. On the other hand, the House in its 71 sessions have only had 17 quorum calls with 30 yeas and nay votes.

There is nothing provincial about the State of California. A recent summary of passport statistics from January to March, 1953, showed that California was the leading state in passports issued with 9,752. Of course New York City led with 21,622, but the State of New York outside of New York City only had 6,131. It was surprising to note that Illinois was second with 7,780, while Pennsylvania with the same population as California and with ocean shipping only had 6,954 passports. Each applicant for a passport must give the state of his residence.

Radio, TV Valuable For Education, Westlake PTA Told

"Television and radio are worthwhile instruments of education to our children if listening and viewing habits are intelligently guided and regulated by parents," declared KCBS program director Pede Worth at the Westlake PTA meeting on June 4.

"Children need excitement and adventure and have a desire to learn which can be satisfied in our homes with radio and television. Most adventure programs designed for youngsters are not detrimental in any form.

"However," said Mr. Worth, "crime programs are not designed for children and it is our duty as parents to supervise both listening and viewing habits."

Preceding the talk the kindergarten classes of Miss French and Miss Pickrel entertained, with rhythm bands, a crowd of 250 parents in the new multi-purpose room.

Mrs. Fred Kruse, president of the unit, gave her convention report and then introduced the following chairmen who will serve for the ensuing year: Mrs. Harry Bosberry, membership; Mrs. Sol Lieberman, hospitality; Mrs. Sol Lieberman, program; Mrs. Richard Boyle, room representative; Mrs. Guido Pfotenbauer, publications and emblems; Mrs. John Eiler, health and welfare; Mrs. Frances Gates, budget and finance, outside publicity.

Mrs. Howard Dunbar was elected to serve as delegate to the coordinating council. Refreshments of cookies and coffee were served by the kindergarten mothers at the conclusion of the meeting.

YOUR NEIGHBORS AND MINE

By Betty Brush

Hello Neighbors:
Today is the day! It is the one day in the year that the "young fry" really like to go to school. Naturally, as is known to all mothers, if no one else, it is the LAST DAY of school.

To the youngsters, the school year has dragged—to us, how did it pass so quickly? From the littlest one in kindergarten to the oldest one graduating from high school, the schools have accomplished much. Congratulations to the teachers from all the neighbors. We thank you. Have a good rest because we'll be waiting for September to roll around so we can send them back to you.

Thought For The Week
Oh God, give me the strength Not to raise my voice in anger; But to speak softly and firmly So that I may teach those Who look to me for guidance, And be a good example to them.

Oh God, give me the patience To think before I pass judgment And let me condemn no one, For fear I make the same mistakes myself.

(One of the neighbors)

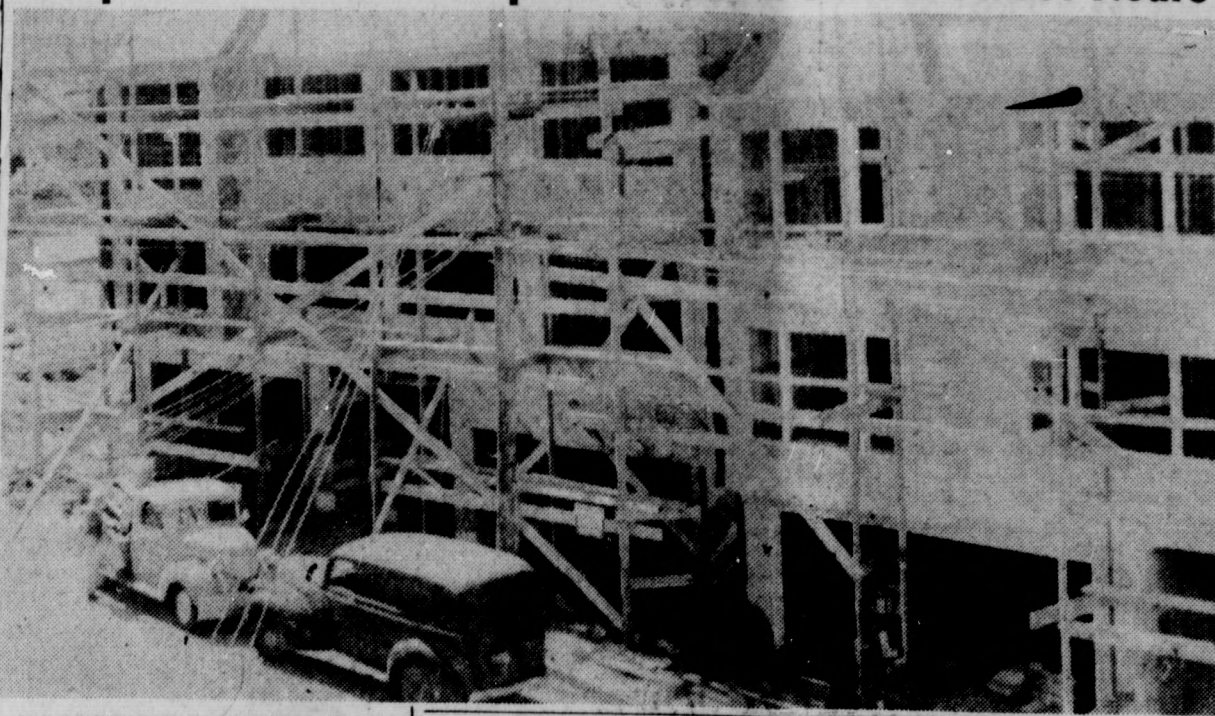

I believe the above speaks for itself, don't you think so, neighbors?

News and Views

MR. J. DILLON of Knowles avenue has been quite ill for the past two weeks. Seems that the old flu bug just won't leave these parts. Mr. Dillon has been one of the neighbors for many years and all of us are wishing him the best of health in the future.

Measles at any time are a nuisance, to say the least, but when you have them when you are only five months old, that is just too much. Little NICKIE BROOKS of Los Banos avenue really is just one big measle. Here's hoping that he

Completion Of 32 New Apartments On School Street Nears

NEARING COMPLETION are two new buildings on School street, to house 32 apartment dwellings. The structures, being erected by Dolan Builders, will be one of the largest multiple-family type dwellings in the area. Completion of the project is expected in 30 to 60 days. THE RECORD photo is much better by now.

On a picnic to Stinson's Beach state park last week were members of the Brush family, namely: Mr. and Mrs. William Brush, Bill Ray and Janet, Mrs. and Mrs. Allen Brush, Mike, Robert and Kathy, plus grandma and grandpa (Maud and Art). These folks really had a good time. Of course there was sand in the sandwiches, some of the kids fell in the water, no fish were caught, but one and all came home tired but happy.

Attending a wedding reception and welcome home party to be held in "Our Town" tomorrow night will be several of the servicemen who are "your neighbors and mine." Among those present will be: Appr. Seaman Bill Beecher, Cpl. Robert Stone, Seaman Richard Eagan, Cpl. Jim Eagan, and Pvt. Larry Moy. Of course there will be many others at this affair but it will be the first time in many years that some of these fellows will have been home all at the same time. Within a week or two they will be scattered again, to meet again—who knows when. They have all grown up together, gone through school together, are now in the service—if not together. Each at least in his own way is serving. Missed will be Pvt. Paul Mitchell who is also one of the crowd. Here's hoping we see them all home soon and to stay.

Visiting old friends in Daly City last week was MRS. JEAN DE MARTINI. Jean lived in our town for many years before deserting us for San Mateo, but always comes back to see her friends. There must be something about the "old town" or it's people—one never forgets after having left here. Her visit was most welcome and we certainly hope she comes again soon.

I watched the coronation on TV. Here are my impressions: Elizabeth is a beautiful queen. Not only physical beauty, but beauty of purpose stood out in her face and bearing through the hours-long ceremonies. I'm sure one and all admired Her Majesty and the proceeding ceremonies, but am also sure that none of us would trade our democracy for all the pomp and circumstance, no matter how impressive. As the song goes, "To Each His Own." We've found ours. Nevertheless, it is a grand and wonderful thing that in this old world of ours, we can still get along together and let the other fellow have "His Own."

Of Interest To All

There was a baby shower held at the home of MRS. HELEN SPECHT last week in honor of MRS. BERTELLI. The ladies mostly all belonged to Co. 1, auxiliary fire department, and those present were: Mesdames Sylvia King, Barbara Brush, Dorothea Brush, Esther Merritt, Agnes Wood and, of course, Mrs. Bertelli. The tables and decorations were in an appropriate motif and the refreshments were delicious. Many nice gifts were received by Mrs. Bertelli and all the best wishes from the neighbors go to her for the coming event.

The Girl's Glee club will sing at the Colma school graduation tonight and the graduation exercises will be held in the new Memorial building. What more fitting memorial to those to whom the building is dedicated than a further step forward in life for those for whom they gave their lives.

MRS. EDWIN DUNCAN, the other hair-doer at Lynne's Beauty Shop, really has it this year. She has two graduating. MARGE DUNCAN, who was the spring president of the Jeff student body and RICHARD DUNCAN who will graduate from Colma and enter Jefferson in the fall. Marge is going to continue her studies at San Francisco State, majoring in social service.

Birthday congratulations are extended to MRS. IRENE ROSENBERG who has a birthday today, June 12th. All the best wishes from your neighbors, Irene.

Another lady celebrated her birthday last week. MRS. LAUREN ROMERO, had a party attended by relatives and friends to help her celebrate. Best wishes from all the neighbors are extended to you too, Irene.

The Eagle's Auxiliary, 1848, have chosen their Mother for the year, MRS. MARY VOBORIL. This honor is bestowed on a member for outstanding work and contribution to the order. Seems from the opinion that they couldn't have chosen a nicer person. Congratulations, Mary Voboril.

Servicemen

A letter was received by MRS. LYNNE BOSKEY, of Hillcrest Circle No. 143, U.A.O. D., from the boys at Letterman hospital. It would like to pass it on to the neighbors. "On behalf of the boys of Ward E-2 and M-1, Letterman hospital, we would like to thank you and your organization for your time spent in making our time, which we have so much of, pass more pleasantly. We look forward each month to seeing you and enjoying the games played and the prizes given. Thanking you again, we remain, Your Boys at Letterman."

Neighbors, I have been given permission to comment on this letter so here goes. Some of these boys are in casts and big ones too. Some can't move at all, and many have been there in that state for over a year. There have been appeals before in this column for donations to this enterprise, and results have come forth. This is one of the most worthy causes that a person can contribute to. It is money well spent. Summer is with us and each and every one of us will have a vacation of some kind. Will they? We will all spend money foolishly in some way, why not spend a little so that they can have a few hours a month of pleasure. How about it neighbors? All you have to do is get in touch with LYNNE BOSKEY, PL. 5-0902, or PL. 5-4154, in the evening.
